05/04/1962Description: Terry Wooster earns the Swimmer of the Season award for his consistently good performances. Terry, now aged 20, has been swimming breaststroke for the past five years. This is the hardest stroke of all, demanding perfect coordination, and Terry has reached the top bracket in the country.

He is club vice-captain, a committeeman and an excellent coach.

Terry Wooster, (left) of Blenheim, who was first home in the Rarangi Surf Life-Saving Club's open-water swim yesterday.

For the second successive year Terry Wooster, of Blenheim, won the Rarangi Life-Saving Club's open-water swim at Rarangi yesterday.

There were 11 competitors including Bill Penny, of Wellington, who this season has made two notable attempts to swim Cook Strait.

A radio announcement during the morning that Penny was to take part was probably responsible for the record 600 to 700 spectators who watched the event from the beach.

These three took top honours in the Rarangi Surf Life-saving Club's annual open water swim at Rarangi yesterday.

From left: Terry Wooster, first home and winner of the B.J. Hipkins Cup; Jenny Martin, third, winner of the miniature cup for the first girl home; and Wayne Robertson, fourth, who won the miniature cup for the fastest time.
